NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secretary, Marine Department.

CALCUTTA, the 28th June 1906.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—MALACCA STRAIT—PULO PENANG.

Pulo Rimau light—Temporary alteration.

No. 241 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 84, dated 3rd March 1905, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 548 of 1906) that further information, dated 9th April 1906, has been received from the Harbour Master at Penang that Pulo Rimau light (red occulting) will, in consequence of an accident, temporarily show white instead of red from the bearing of N. 59° E., through east, to S. 74° E.

Approximate position, lat. 5° 14′ N., long. 100° 16¼′ E.

(Variation 2° Easterly in 1906.)

This Notice temporarily affects the following Admiralty Charts :—Acheh head to Tyingkok bay, No. 2760 ; Butang group to Pulo Berhala, No. 793 ; Penang harbour, No. 1366 ; Malacca strait, No. 1365 ; also, List of Lights, Part VI, 1906, No. 408 ; and China Sea Directory, Vol. I, 1896, page 147.

AUSTRALIA SOUTH—PORT ADELAIDE RIVER.

Light beacons under construction.

No. 242 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given Notice (No. 553 of 1906) that, in connection with the erection of light beacons abreast beacons Nos. 3 to 9 on the north and east sides of the channel, Port Adelaide river, a barge exhibiting an anchor light at night will be moored in the stream during the progress of the work, which will be commenced from No. 9 beacon. A green fixed light will be exhibited from each beacon when completed.

Approximate position, No. 9 beacon, lat. 34° 47½′ S., long. 138° 31′ E.

Further notice will be given when these beacons are completed

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart :—Port Adelaide, No. 1750 ; also, List of Lights, Part VI, 1906, page 206 ; and Australia Directory, Vol. I, 1897, page 332.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—Gulf of St. Vincent.

Port Adelaide river—Extra Beacons placed—Amended Sailing Directions.

No. 243 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 62, dated 10th February 1906, issued by this office, the Secretary, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further notice (No. 11 of 1906) that eight extra beacons have been placed on the north and east side of the cutting. The beacons are painted black and the lanterns green, from which a green light showing towards the cutting is exhibited; a white light is also exhibited from the back of each lantern showing towards the shore.

All the green light beacons are numbered from the first or seaward beacon with the letter "G" added as follows:—No. 0G, being outside beacon; No. 1G, near the reflecting beacon; No. 2G, opposite the old boat channel. This light indicates the turning point from No. 2 (red) lead towards No. 3. All the others, that is, Nos. 3G to 9G, both inclusive, are placed opposite the corresponding numbers of the white light beacons on the other side of the cutting.

All the single light beacons are placed about 15 feet back from the cutting, and painted red to starboard and black to port. The lights are white to starboard and green to port from seaward.

The red light on the pile beacon south of No. 3 being no longer required will, on and after the 1st June 1906, be discontinued.

In consequence of the above alterations the sailing directions have been amended to read as follows:—

Sailing Directions.

By night.—In approaching the anchorage, vessels of deep draught should not bring the white light on the old structure to bear north of N. E. by E. in order to avoid the four-fathom patch, which bears N. W. half N. from the light on Wonga Shoal; then get No. 1 lead (which consists of two red lights vertical 10 feet apart, and two white lights vertical 11 feet 9 inches apart) in line; keep these in line passing between the occulting light on the red buoy and the outer green light on the north bank, also between the other green lights on the north bank and the white lights on the revetment mound.

Steer on the same line until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are coming on; then steer with them in line until abreast of No. 2G beacon; then direct the course to pass between No. 3 and No. 3G beacons; and so on from beacon to beacon round the point until No. 9 is reached. From a safe distance off No. 9 the lights of No. 10 lead will be seen; keep them in line until the red light is about a quarter of a point open to the right of the white light of No. 11 lead; then gradually alter the course to bring the lights of No. 11 lead in line; keep them in line (a sharp look out being kept for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand) until the lights of No. 12 lead are seen coming into line; proceed as before by altering the course before the lights are on with each other. The same applies in the change from No. 12 to No. 13 lead. When the lights on the wharves are seen opening out off Luff Point, alter the course so as to round the point at a safe distance, and then up the centre of the channel, looking out for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand.

In going outwards the directions are just the opposite to those given for those coming inwards; but in such case, in changing from one lead to another, the course should be gradually altered when abreast of the low (red) beacon of each lead, excepting No. 2 lead. In this case, when abreast of No. 3 beacon, gradually alter the course to a safe distance off No. 2G until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are in line, then proceed outwards with No. 2 lead in line.

By day.—The directions by day are the same as by night, merely substituting the beacons for the lights.

This affects Admiralty Charts 2389A and B, 1750 and 1752.

During the progress of the work at the Light's Passage Harbour Works, masters of vessels exempt from pilotage may, if they so desire, avail themselves of the services of a pilot to assist them in passing such works, either in or out, at one-half the usual rates.

If the usual exemption flag is not hoisted, it will be taken as a signal that a pilot is required. At night if a pilot is required the usual signal for a pilot should be shown.

N.B.—Owing to the nature of the work in progress, this notice may require to be amended from time to time, and therefore should be treated as tentative only.

INDIA, WEST—Bombay coast.

Bombay harbour—Ballard pier—New extension works marked by buoy.

No. 244 (first publication).—The Bombay Government has given notice (No. 65 of 1906) that several blocks of concrete have been washed off the works at the East end of the Ballard Pier Extension somewhat obstructing the passage to the old steps.

2. A small black painted conical Buoy will be moored to mark the end of this obstruction which has a depth on it of 12 feet at Low Water.

3 Vessels approaching this draught should not pass between the Buoy and end of the new Pier Extension works.

This Notice affects Admiralty Chart :—Port of Bombay, No. 655; also West Coast of Hindustan Pilot, 4th edition, 1898, page 201; and Supplement, 1903, page 15.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE QUINQUENNIAL PERIOD 1900-01 TO 1904-05.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 28th June 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 1949T.R.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Patna Division for the quinquennial period 1900-01 to 1904-05.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest the Administration Report of the Patna Division for the last five years, which furnishes a full record of the progress made during that period.

1. Material condition: Public health: Weather and crops: Prices of food and labour.—It is to be regretted that the public health of the division was not good during the years under review, the average annual mortality exceeding 5¾ lakhs. The death-rate was highest in the districts of Patna and Saran, where the outbreak of plague has been most violent. Substantial assistance has been rendered by Government in the shape of grants to supplement the resources of District

Boards and Municipalities in dealing with the outbreak, and an organised crusade against rats has been instituted in the chief plague-infected areas. The average birth-rate per thousand of population rose from 37·51 in the preceding quinquennium to 42·76 in the one under report—an increase of more than five per thousand, which was shared by every district in the division. It is probable that both under the head of the death-rate and of the birth-rate a portion of the increase is due to better reporting. It is satisfactory to note that the material condition of the people, which is very largely dependent upon the outturn of the crops, was better at the close than at the commencement of the quenquennium. In spite of the prevalence of plague, which has entailed much suffering, there has been no serious distress, such as occurred during 1896-97, the year of the famine. The outturn of the crops has varied very considerably, being generally regulated by the rainfall, which has been very unevenly distributed during the five years under review. Prices fluctuated accordingly, good harvests in 1903 04 lowering the price of wheat, while prices of common rice ruled high in Patna, Saran, Champaran, and Darbhanga during 1901-02. The price of salt owing to the reduction of the salt-tax is lower than at any time during the last fifteen years.

2. Manufactures and Mines.—Besides opium and other exciseable articles, the principal manufactures are indigo, sugar and saltpetre. Indigo, which has long been the chief article of manufacture in the North Gangetic districts of the division, has shown a steady decline during the years under review both in the outturn and in the value of the indigo produced. The price per maund is now barely sufficient to cover the cost of production, and sugar, cotton and country crops are now in many cases taking its place and are found to yield a more profitable return. It remains to be seen whether the introduction of Java indigo on a large scale will enable natural indigo successfully to compete with the artificial product. The manufacture of refined sugar on an extensive scale is one of the immediate results of the decline of the indigo industry. The Otter sugar factory, equipped with the most modern crushing and refining machinery, was started in 1902-03, and other sugar works in Saran and Champaran have since been started with much promise of future success. The manufacture of saltpetre continues to decline, though the figures for salt show a slight improvement on the last quinquennium. The opium factory in Gulzarbagh in the Patna district furnished employment for large numbers of labourers and skilled artisans. An industrial exhibition was held for the first time at Sonepur in November 1904. Considering the short time available for preparation, the display of exhibits was very creditable, and it is hoped that the exhibition will be held annually in future and that its scope will be further extended. The only mines in the division are the mica mines in the subdivision of Nawada in the Gaya district. The average outturn per annum was 3,200 maunds, and almost the same number of labourers was employed as in the previous quinquennium.

3. Trade and Commerce.—It is satisfactory to note that trade as a whole showed a decided tendency to expand during the years under report, both imports and exports, showing a considerable increase. Patna still easily heads the list among districts both as regards imports and exports, though with the opening out of new railways all over the Division, bringing Bihar more closely into touch with Calcutta, it is necessarily losing something of the position of a central mart of exchange which it has so long held.

4. Civil Justice.—As regards civil justice, the only remarkable feature to notice is the very great increase of rent suits in districts where survey and settlement operations were completed before the expiry of the quinquennium. An enquiry was made by the Special Judge appointed under the Tenancy Act for the Darbhanga district, and he arrived at the conclusion that the increase was chiefly due to the fact (1) of raiyats withholding rents while operations were in progress in order to ascertain what rates would be settled, and (2) to the fact that landlords now have records on which they can safely rely in order to prove the relationship of landlord and tenant.

5. Crime: Criminal Justice, Police.—The total reported crime of the division shows a slight increase of 0·6 per cent. so far as cognizable cases are concerned, while in non-cognizable cases there is a decrease of 3·7 per cent.

Burglaries, which have always been numerous in Bihar, show a decrease of 2,500 cases. The most inveterate criminals in the division are the Magheya Domes, and it is satisfactory to note that special attention has been paid to them, and that many of them have been sent up and convicted of bad livelihood during the quinquennium, especially in the districts of Saran and Champaran. It is satisfactory to notice that the number of cases tried in the villages of the accused increased from 27·9 to 46·2 of the total. The dafadari system has now been introduced into all the districts of the division except the Andhora outpost of the Shahabad district, and promises to work well. The average annual number of chaukidars who earned rewards has more than doubled during the quinquennium. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the new system recently introduced will do much to increase the usefulness and efficiency of the village watch. Additional police were employed in four districts, mostly owing to land and religious disputes, except in Patna, where they were required on account of opposition shown to the plague operations, and once in connection with an attack made by villagers on some soldiers. The amount of criminal fines imposed fell considerably during the quinquennium, while the collections showed a marked improvement which was shared by all the districts of the division.

6. Attached and Wards' Estates.—The total number of estates under the Court of Wards at the commencement of the quinquennium was 18. Six of these were subsequently released and seven others were taken in charge, leaving 19 under management at the close of the period. The largest estate which passed out of Government control was that of Maharaj Kumar Gopal Saran Narayan Sinha, of Tikari, who assumed charge of it after attaining his majority on the 16th October 1904. The estate was under the charge of the Court for 19½ years, and during that time much was done to improve it. In eight of the twelve estates which remained under the management of the Court throughout the quinquennium the collections were satisfactory, being over cent. per cent. of the total current demands for the period under report. The large and important estate of Bettiah still remains the most heavily involved property under management. The debt, however, is being paid off, and will be entirely extinguished in 1925. Hathwa, which ranks next in size and importance, is the most solvent of all, having a considerable sum invested in Government and other securities. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the relations between the tenants and the management of the Court were satisfactory.

7. Excise.—The total excise revenue of the division rose from Rs. 29,15,337 in 1901 to Rs. 31,78,204 in 1904-05. The main increase was under the head of country spirits, which increased from Rs. 17,64,906 to Rs. 24,49,569. The increase in the revenue from country spirits coincided with a considerable decrease in consumption. The consumption in 1900-01 was 4,991,522 gallons against 3,300,339 gallons in 1904-05 and the incidence per gallon increased from 5 annas 8 pies to 10 annas 5 pies.

8. Savings Banks.—It is very satisfactory to note that the number of accounts has increased from 24,190 in 1900 to 33,657 in 1905, or by 35·1 per cent. This is all the more satisfactory, as the increase in the amount deposited has only increased from Rs. 28,40,519 to Rs. 35,76,298, or by 25·9 per cent., thus showing that the poorer persons are availing themselves of the facilities afforded by these banks.

9. Railways and other Public Works.—The construction of the Buktearpur Light Railway, which was sanctioned by the Government of Bengal in June 1901, was completed, and the line was opened on the 20th July 1903. Its prospects are promising, and already the question of the extension of the line to Silao is under the consideration of the Board. The most important development of the Bengal and North-Western Railway, was the opening of the Hajipur-Bachhwara extension to goods and passenger traffic during the period under report. The canal system was further developed by the construction of the Dhaka and the partial construction of the Triveni Canal, both of which originated as famine relief works in the district of Champaran during the famine of 1896-97. The latter on completion will be some sixty miles in length and should irrigate an area of 114,000 acres, the estimated cost being over 37 lakhs.

The Sone Canals, which are the most important in the division, irrigate some 500,000 acres, and it is satisfactory to note that there has been a very considerable rise in the receipts accompanied by a decrease of expenditure. There is room for development in the organisation of the system of private irrigation prevailing in the Gaya district and in the utilisation in the frontier districts north of the Ganges of the numerous small rivers flowing down from Nepal which are at present practically running to waste.

10. Education.—The Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that in spite of the prevalence of plague, education has made material progress in the Patna Division. Both the number of schools and the number of pupils show a considerable increase, there having been a gain of 517 schools and 21,995 pupils. The largest increase is under the head of Primary Schools. A training school for Deputy Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors of Schools has been opened at Patna and a model girls' school has been opened in each district Owing to the prejudices of the people, the education of girls has made but slow progress, there being only something over three hundred more pupils in girls' schools throughout the division than there was ten years ago, while the number of schools is actually less. A movement is now on foot for the establishment of schools where the purda system can be strictly observed. In Patna one such school aided by a grant from Government is already in existence, the pupils being chiefly Muhammadan girls of good family.

11. Dispensaries and Hospitals.—The number treated in hospitals and dispensaries has risen from 679,165 in 1899 to 973,150, while the daily average number of patients increased from 5,889 to 7,347. Expenditure has risen from Rs. 1,76,000 to Rs. 2,63,000, and it is satisfactory to note that the average annual income from private subscriptions and endowments has risen from Rs. 46,613 to Rs. 1,16,071 in the quinquennium under report. Managing Committees have been appointed for all dispensaries with the object of emphasizing as far as possible the distinction between expenditure on charitable objects and that on ordinary municipal administration.

12. Local Self-Government.—There were 26 Municipalities in the Division at the close of the quinquennium with 386 members of the Municipal Boards. It is satisfactory to note as evidence of the greater interest taken in municipal affairs that the percentage of attendance of members has shown an improvement in the great majority of Municipal Committees. As regards the financial position of the municipalities, there has been a steady increase both in the total income and expenditure, the increase in the former amounting to 20·9 per cent. and in the latter to 20·4 per cent. The maintenance of roads, the improvement of drainage and the provision of adequate conservancy arrangements make the chief demand upon municipal income. In Bihar and Chapra drainage schemes are in preparation, while the Muzaffarpur Municipality has shown enterprise in the construction of a septic tank and of a new market in the centre of the town. The Patna Municipality, which is the foremost in the division, has been much hampered by the necessity of incurring heavy plague expenditure, in which, however, it has received liberal assistance from Government.

13. Relations between landlords and tenants.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the relations between landlords and tenants have been on the whole satisfactory during the period under report, though there are many exceptions to this where the zamindars have tried to set aside the settlement records and where the landlords are absentees. The tenants still remain an ignorant class, though many of them are beginning to acquire a more exact knowledge of their rights. It is satisfactory to note that all the District Officers agree in reporting the excellent relations existing between indigo planters and their raiyats in all the indigo districts throughout the period under review.

The Lieutenant-Governor thanks Mr. Levinge for his report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BHAGALPUR DIVISION FOR THE YEARS 1900-01 TO 1904-05.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 30th June 1906.

RESOLUTION No. 1370T.—R.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Bhagalpur Division for the years 1900-01 to 1904-05.

Material condition of the people.

The period with which the Quinquennial Report of the Bhagalpur Division deals can be described as one of moderate prosperity coupled with some advance in the material condition of the people. It is true that the rainfall was below the average and at times unseasonable in its distribution, that consequently the crops were generally disappointing and the rice crop a poor one, and that twice there was apprehension of local scarcity, yet there does not appear to have been any lack of food-stocks. This is proved by the facts that the reported export of food-grains averaged about 47 lakhs of maunds a year, against an annual average import of 8 lakhs, and that in spite of this large export, prices, except in the case of rice, kept fairly steady. Wages have risen, the demand for artizans has advanced, imports of commodities have increased and traders have, despite the dislocation of local trade caused by the appearance of the plague, done well. The raiyat, thanks to the knowledge acquired by constant attendance at the Settlement Courts, has become more and more acquainted with his rights. On the other hand, the professional classes have fared ill, and the old landed families are being gradually ousted by the Mahajan who continues to flourish at their expense. The flow of emigration from the Sonthal Parganas remained fairly steady, but there was a marked increase in the number of registered emigrants owing to the passing of Act VI of 1901 which closed the district to open recruiting. The general health of the Division, with the exception of Monghyr and Purnea, was good. No doubt the average death-rate for the quinquennium was large, but this was due to the exceptional severity of the epidemic of cholera which occurred in 1900 and which wrought such havoc in Purnea. As usual, the diseases coming under the generic term "fever," accounted for the largest proportion of deaths. In 1900 plague appeared for the first time in the Division, Monghyr being the district which was most severely affected. It is satisfactory to note that the strenuous opposition which was at first offered to the efforts of Government to prevent the spread of this disease, has now practically vanished. The reported birth-rate has increased, and this is due probably to improved registration. The birth-rate is largely in excess of the death-rate. The standard of comfort appears to be rising, for it is reported there has been a general increase in the use of articles formerly confined to the wealthier classes. On the other hand the less successful members of the professional classes and the lower paid Government servants have suffered as prices continued high while wages of servants have tended to rise.

Manufactures, etc.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with regret that the Indigo industry in the Division has suffered severely from the competition of the German artificial product and a succession of bad harvests. The area under Indigo has diminished by one-half. Poppy cultivation is stationary. The molasses industry is doing well. The manufacture of silk thread continues to be the most important industry in Malda, but it is unfortunate that the manufacture of silk fabrics, which at one time were exported even to Persia, is on the decline. Mixed silk and cotton fabrics thrive, and there is a considerable industry in cotton cloth in the Sonthal Parganas, where the aborigines weave it for their own use. Other industries which have maintained their former level or show signs of improvement are the manufacture of fancy ebony work at Monghyr; of blankets in the district of Bhagalpur and at Katihar; of mats at Kishanganj; of bell-metal utensils in Malda; of gunny-bags in Purnea; of cart-wheels in Kishanganj and of lac in the Southal Parganas. A marked development has occurred in the lastnamed industry. There has been a considerable falling off in the manufacture of fire-arms in Monghyr, attributable to a decline in the demand owing to the greater care with which licenses are granted and to competition with European and American weapons of superior quality and cheaper price. The output of coal and mica has fallen off.

Imports and exports.

3. In all the principle articles of import, such as coal, salt, sugar, kerosine oil and cotton piece-goods, there has been a marked expansion. Owing to the extension of the Tirhut State Railway to Katihar, trade that was formerly river-borne and thus escaped registration, is now conveyed by rail, yet this cannot alone account for an increase of 54·4 per cent. in the registered import trade. There has also been an increase but not on so large a scale in exports. In the export of food-grains, there has been a slight decrease, but as noticed elsewhere, the exports largely exceeded the imports. It is satisfactory to note that the export trade in jute is nearly double what it was during the preceding quinquennium, principally owing to the large extension of cultivation in Purnea during the last two or three years.

Civil Justice.

4. The most noticeable feature regarding Civil Justice is the marked influence, the different stages of the settlement operations (which were in progress on a large scale throughout the Division except Malda) had on the statistics of rent and title suits disposed of in the Civil Courts. In Madhipura, there was a large increase of rent suits in 1904 because the landlords hoped that Civil Court decrees would assist them at attestation; and in Beguserai, in the same year, after attestation was over, there was similarly a large increase, probably because arrears of rent had accumulated during the pendency of the settlement proceedings. In the same subdivision, a large increase also occurred in the number of title suits; these were instituted to set aside the decrees of the Settlement Courts. In the Sonthal Parganas, on the other hand, there was a large decrease in such suits, because, while settlement operations are being carried on, the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts ceases with regard to such suits. There has been a slight falling off in the number of money suits. This is attributed to bad harvests; it can equally be attributed to the fact that the people were too much taken up with the settlement. It is satisfactory to note that in Monghyr, the average time for disposing of a rent suit has decreased considerably, and that this is attributed to the publication of a record-of-rights for the Beguserai subdivision.

Crime: Police: Criminal Justice.

5. Reported crime has increased. The increase is more marked in the case of cognizable crime than in the case of non-cognizable crime, a fact which is attributed to bad harvests which restrict petty litigation, but increase serious crime. It follows that stipendiary Magistrates who generally deal with serious crime have had more work to do. The work of Honorary Magistrates, who deal more particularly with petty crime, has at the same time decreased. On the whole, however, there has been a slight decrease in the combined work of both classes of Magistrates. A marked feature of the period was a serious outbreak of dacoity in Purnea and North Bhagalpur on the borders of the Nepal Terai. The results of Police investigations have not been very satisfactory. Both the numbers of police cases investigated and of uninvestigated petty cases of burglary and theft, in which detection was hopeless from the first, have increased. There has also been a decrease in the percentage of convictions to investigations in Monghyr, Purnea and Bhagalpur. This seems to point, as remarked by the Commissioner, to a lack of detective ability and a want of careful investigation on the part of the police, and may to some extent be due to the influx of comparatively raw and untrained officers to the ranks of Sub-Inspectors. The training they have got at the Bhagalpur Police Training School will no doubt tell in the end but it cannot replace at once the long experience which the older

Sub-Inspectors gained while serving as head constables. With some years of practical experience, their work should be much better than that of their predecessors. In Bhagalpur the results have been better since 1904, and Purnea has been receiving the special attention of the Inspector-General of Police. His attention will be drawn to the case of Monghyr. It is satisfactory to note that the conduct of the Police force as a whole has improved.

Rural Police.

6. Though attempts have been made to secure a better class of chaukidars and the daffadari system has been introduced generally, it is reported that there has been no appreciable improvement in consequence. It is, however, satisfactory to note that in Monghyr the morale of the chaukidars has improved. It is reported that this is due to the fact that petty rewards and fines are being gradually discouraged. In the Sonthal Parganas, the chaukidars in consequence of the enactment of Regulation III of 1890, which first gave them a legal status, are placed under the village headman who is vested with police powers; consequently no daffadars have been appointed there. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to note that the Regulation has on the whole worked well.

Revenue.

7. Settlement proceedings were in progress in all the districts of the Division except Malda. In Monghyr the operations have now been completed. It is noteworthy that the information supplied by the settlement records has led to an improvement of land registration in Monghyr. Settlement also accounted for a large increase in the stamp revenue. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the education of all the minors under the Court of Wards was well looked after during the quinquennium and that the conditions of the tenantry of estates under direct management was on the whole satisfactory.

Railways and communications.

8. The period was remarkable for the activity displayed in the extension of Railways. The Hajipur-Katihar Extension of the Bengal and North-Western Railway was opened in 1901. A new line from Mansi on the same extension to Bhaptiahi on the Khanwa Ghat branch of the Tirhut State Railway was started. The construction of a light railway in Monghyr from Khagaria on the Ganges to Roserha was submitted for the approval of Government just after the close of the period. Lines from Bhagalpur to Bansi and from Katihar to Godagari are also under contemplation. There was also an extension of roads everywhere except in Malda. The increase was most marked in Purnea, which has the largest mileage in the Division. Much activity was also shown in the construction of bridges and the improvement of existing roads by the various District Boards. That definite programmes have been drawn up for improving roadside avenues is satisfactory. The improvement of the steamer service on the Ganges, which is now reported to be regular and rapid, is noteworthy.

Education.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to observe that there had been a steady advance in the number of schools and in the attendance at them, except during the last year of the quinquennium when there was a decided falling off. Though this is attributed to the change of system and in particular to the abolition of the departmental examinations, which is said to have deterred parents from keeping their children at school, it must be admitted that the period is one of transition, and it is too early yet to judge by these results. There has been great progress in the education of the aborigines of the Sonthal Parganas. This is due to the Missionaries. Female education has recovered from the check it received during the former quinquennium and has now made considerable progress especially in Purnea and Malda. The proportion of Muhammadans attending school corresponds generally to the percentage of Muhammadans in the whole population, and the percentage of Muhammadans holding ministerial posts under Government in the Division is good.

Hospitals and Dispensaries.

10. His Honour is pleased to observe that the medical institutions in the Division are steadily gaining popularity, and that they have received adequate support from the District Boards and Municipalities. The advance is most marked in the number of out-patients, particularly in the two unhealthy districts of Purnea and Malda.

During the quinquennium the total number of hospitals and dispensaries increased from 47 to 62. It is satisfactory to note that the question of affording veterinary assistance has been receiving the attention of the District Boards. There were at the close of the quinquennium dispensaries in Monghyr and Purnea, and an itinerary Assistant in Bhagalpur.

Relations between landlords and tenants.

11. In connection with the settlements in this Division, there has been a good deal of friction between landlords and tenants. Some of the landlords have resorted to means of increasing rents in conflict with the provisions of section 29 of the Tenancy Act. There have been other cases also in which oppression was exercised by the landlords to increase rents or to levy abwabs. The Sonthal Parganas forms an exception as the protection conferred by Regulation III of 1872 against illegal enhancements and exactions is generally effective. The only serious disturbance arising from strained relations between zamindars and tenants occurred in the Purnea district in 1901 in pargana Dharampur where raiyats were reported to have agreed to an enhancement of rent on condition that the indigo cultivation was given up. When orders were given to continue the cultivation of indigo, the raiyats refused in a body either to pay enhanced rents or to grow indigo. Matters finally quieted down after additional police had been quartered in the pargana and special constables had been appointed, and after the Maharaja of Darbhanga made various concessions.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor thanks the Commissioners who have held charge of the Division for their efficient administration, and Mr. D. J. Macpherson for his report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RECOMMENDATION TO BE MADE BY THE DISTRICT BOARDS OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR THE NOMINATION OF A MEMBER TO THE BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

No. 1747 A. D.

RESOLUTION.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 30th June 1906.

THE seat in the Bengal Legislative Council of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, who was nominated as the representative of the District Boards of the Dacca Division on the 2nd August, 1904, will be vacant on the 1st August, 1906.

2. In paragraph 5 of the Resolution of this Government, No. 1553J., dated the 25th March, 1893, it was prescribed that District Boards should be grouped together, Division by Division, and that District Boards within each divisional area should take it in turns to exercise the privilege bestowed upon them of recommending a person for nomination to the Council. In the same paragraph a sketch was given of the form which the rotation would probably assume, but it was mentioned that the Lieutenant-Governor could not bind himself or his successor as to the exact order in which the privilege would in future be exercised.

3. From the 6th September, 1897, to the 28th February, 1898, during which period Maharaja Jagadindra Nath Ray of Natore was the representative of the District Boards of the Rajshahi Division, no Council was held; the period of representation by these District Boards was therefore extended by a year. In August 1903, it was deemed expedient, in view of pending legislation in amendment of the law of Landlord and Tenant in Chota Nagpur, that a representative of the Chota Nagpur District Boards should sit in Council instead of a representative of the District Boards of the Dacca Division, a return to the original roster being made in August, 1904. The following table shows the deviations which have actually occurred from the roster proposed in 1893 :—

Roster of District Boards proposed in 1893.		Actual Roster.
1893-95	Patna. Chittagong.	1893-95	Patna. Chittagong.
1895-97	Dacca. Bhagalpur.	1895-97	Dacca. Bhagalpur.
1897-99	Presidency. Rajshahi.	1897-99	Presidency.
1899-1901	Burdwan. Orissa.	1897-1900	Rajshahi.
1901-1903	Patna. Chittagong.	1899-1901	Burdwan.
1903-1905	Dacca. Bhagalpur.	1900-1902	Orissa.
1905-1907	Presidency. Rajshahi.	1901-1903	Patna.
		1902-1904	Chittagong.
		1903-1905	Chota Nagpur.
		1904-1906	Dacca.
		1905-1907	Bhagalpur.

4. The formation of the New Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam and the transfer thereto of the Divisions of Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong now necessitates the drawing up of a new roster both with regard to the rotation of groups of District Boards and groups of Municipalities. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, is of opinion that no such new roster should be prescribed until the question of reconstituting the Divisions of Bihar has been finally settled.

5. Meanwhile, as District Boards of the Presidency Division have not been represented in the Bengal Council since 1899, and since under the present roster it would now be their turn to recommend a representative to fill the seat to be vacated by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided that the recommendation should be made by this group. The necessary notification will now be published in the Calcutta Gazette, specifying the District Boards of the Presidency Division as the group of Boards on whose recommendation the Lieutenant-Governor will make a nomination to the seat. Each District Board will elect one representative only, and he will be entitled to exercise all the votes of the body which he represents.

6. The following statement shows the District Boards which will send delegates to vote for a person to be recommended for the vacant seat, and the number of votes assigned to them according to the scale shown in paragraph 5 of the Resolution of this Government, No. 2307A., dated the 31st March, 1897.

The ordinary income taken is that for 1904-1905 :—

Division.	District Board.	Ordinary income.	Number of votes to be recorded by the representatives.
		Rs.
Presidency ...	24-Parganas	2,54,911	5
	Nadia	1,52,110	3
	Murshidabad	1,00,482	2
	Jessore	1,64,979	3
	Khulna	1,70,267	3

7. Under Rule IV of the Regulations framed by the Governor-General in Council with the approval of the Secretary of State under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, for Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor now desires that the Commissioner of the Presidency Division will at once address the Chairmen of the District Boards enumerated in the above list, requesting them to convene a special meeting of their Board at which one member of the Board should be selected to represent them for the purpose of making the recommendation for the seat in Council and expressing a desire to receive the names of any candidates for the Council who may offer themselves for recommendation.

8. The period of three months laid down in Rule VII of the Regulations as that within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor will run from the date on which the Commissioner of the Division issues his request to the Chairmen of the District Boards.

9. All candidates for the Council should be proposed and seconded by two members of one of the District Boards included in the group; and their names, addresses and qualifications, with those of their proposers and seconders, should be reported to the Commissioner by the Chairman of the Board to which the proposer and seconder in each case belong, so as to reach him not later than a month before the date fixed for the appointment of a representative under Regulation V (c), which date should at the same time be notified to the Commissioner. It will be the business of each Chairman to see that this is done.

10. The Commissioner should enter the names of candidates for the Council, who have been duly proposed and seconded, with those of their proposers and seconders, and the other particulars above noted as they reach him, in a list to be kept for the purpose; and should circulate this list to all District Boards included in the group, so as to reach them before the date fixed for the appointment of a representative. On the date on which the meeting for the purpose of appointing a representative is held, the list of candidates mentioned above should be circulated to each member present at the meeting. It will rest with the District Boards, if they see fit, to give clear and definite instructions to their representatives as to the way in which they should vote, that is, as to the candidate for whom they should vote, declaring the name of the candidate to whom all their votes should be given or, if to be given to more than one candidate, the order and manner in which such votes should be given.

11. As soon as the representatives have been selected, they will be called upon by the Commissioner of the Division to meet together on an early and convenient date, with special reference to the limit imposed by Rule VII of the Regulations, and at such convenient place as he may specify, for the purpose of electing, by a majority of votes, a person whom they will recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to be nominated as a member of the Council.

12. The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect one of themselves to be Chairman, and he shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper conduct of the voting.

13. The names of all candidates entered on the list mentioned above, together with those of their proposers and seconders, shall be read out by the Chairman, and the representatives shall then proceed to vote. The person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on the occasion of the first vote an absolute majority is not obtained, the name of the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another vote shall then be held for the remaining candidates, and so on, until an absolute majority is obtained.

14. The Chairman of the meeting shall without delay report to the Commissioner of the Division the name of the person elected, with the number of votes obtained, and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate, and on behalf of the meeting shall recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the nomination to the Council of the person so elected. The Commissioner shall submit the report from the Chairman of the meeting, with any observations he may wish to add, to the Chief Secretary to the Government, by whom the recommendation will be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor.

15. Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council with the approval of the Secretary of State :—

VI.—It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation or group of Municipal Corporations that he shall be a person resident within the Municipality or the District in which it is situated or in some one of the Municipalities constituting the group or of the districts in which they are situated.

A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Explanation.—A person is not "resident" within the meaning of this Rule unless he has a place of residence in the locality concerned, and such practical connection with that locality as qualifies him to represent the inhabitants thereof.

If at any time the question is raised whether a person proposed for election is "resident" within the meaning of this Rule, the question shall be referred to and decided by the Local Government, whose decision shall be final.

Under this rule it is not necessary that the person recommended should be a member of any District Board concerned, but he must be resident within the Division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the representatives to recommend a person under Rule V (c) according to the majority of their votes.

16. It is desirable that the subsidiary arrangements now sanctioned shall, as far as possible, be given effect to by the District Boards concerned with the minimum amount of official interference. The Divisional Commissioner and the District Magistrates will, of course, afford any assistance which may be required, and will do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the elections; but Government officers are forbidden to take part, directly or indirectly, in the election by canvassing, influencing votes, or otherwise interfering with the free choice of the District Boards. No indication should be given by any official member of any of the District Boards concerned as to the manner in which he himself intends to vote.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for information and guidance, and for communication to the District Boards in his Division.

ORDERED also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORTER TO THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1905-1906.

The 2nd July 1906.—The following report is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE Bengal Meteorological Department was in charge of Mr. G.W. Küchler from 1st April to 1st October, and in charge of Prof. J. A. Cunningham from 2nd October to the end of the year.

2. Owing to the transfer of the district of Sambalpur in the Central Provinces to Bengal from 16th October 1905, the third-class observatory at Sambalpur has been placed under my control.

3. In paragraph 2 of the Administration Report for the year 1904-1905, Mr. Küchler reported that of the 19 fourth-class observatories sanctioned by the Government of Bengal, he was unable to arrange for the establishment of an observatory at Chandkhira. Since then an observatory has been established at Chandkhira and placed in charge of the Sub-Post Master of the place. The observer commenced to record the observations from the 5th October.

4. After considerable delay, the observatory at Angul, sanctioned by the Government of India in June 1903, was started on the 23rd December 1905.

5. Three observatories were hence added to the list of the previous year, and the total number of observatories under the control of the Bengal Meteoro, logical Department on the 31st March 1906 was 66, of which 5 are second class, 41 third class, 19 fourth class and 1 voluntary. The following table gives the names and distribution of these 66 observatories:—

6. The construction of the Monghyr Observatory has been finished, and it is expected that the observatory will be started shortly.

7. Automatic instruments recording pressure and temperature were supplied to Hazaribagh, where they were brought into use from 16th August. The following table shows the names of the observatories where these instruments have been in use during the past year:—

Chittagong.	Puri.
Burdwan.	Cuttack.
Saugor Island.	Balasore.
Hazaribagh.

8. By direction of the Government of Bengal a self-recording barometer, dry and wet bulb thermometers and a rain-gauge were supplied to Fraserganj, situated about 16 miles to the S. E. of Saugor Island, but no observations have yet been received from this station.

9. Award for special observations.—The observers at Barisal, Berhampore Burdwan, Cuttack, Darbhanga, Hazaribagh, Ranchi, and Saugor Island were granted special awards by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian Observatories for storm observations and earthquake reports during the past year.

10. Inspection of Observatories.—The following table gives the names of the observatories that were inspected during the past year, the dates of inspection and the condition of the observatory at the time of inspection:—

Name of station.	Date of inspection.	Condition of the observatory at the time of inspection.

Narayanganj	24th and 25th March ...	Good.

11. Work at Observatories.—All the second class observatories (with the exception of Saugor Island) submitted accurate observations throughout the year: the number of mistakes found in the meteorological registers of the Saugor Island observatory were more numerous than is desirable.

12. Judging from the observations submitted, the work done by the observers of the third-class observatories at Dinajpur, Balasore, Berhampore, Bhagalpur, Burdwan, Buxar, Comilla, Cuttack, Dehri, Faridpur, Krishnagar, Patna, Ranchi and Raniganj were generally satisfactory, while the observers at Barisal, Jalpaiguri, Malda, Rampur-Boalia and Rangpur, who are postal employees, have been careless in their work.

13. Accurate observations were received from the voluntary observatory at Cooch Behar.

14. The observations received from the fourth-class observatories have been generally satisfactory.

have co-operated with the Meteorological Department in various other matters.

36. Office Establishment.—I was not in charge of the combined offices during the year under report, but have reason to believe that the staff worked during that period to the satisfaction of my predecessors.

The price of common rice has risen in four and fallen in six districts, but continues high in most districts.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the new Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; g, gloomy; t, thunder; ≤, lighiting.

(3) The Sanitary Engineer shall, in all cases, act as adviser of the local authority, and may, as far as possible, arrange for the engagement of surveyors when requested by the local authority to do so.

Submission of sketch, statement and application.

2. When the sketch of the project has been drawn up under Rule 1, the local authority shall submit it to the Municipal Department of Government, together with a statement wherein shall be shown the amount of the funds available for meeting the cost of the project, either from current revenue or by way of loan.

(3) that the work can be done effectually in the manner and for the cost proposed.

Procedure after grant of administrative approval. Preparation of detailed plans and estimates.

4. When the administrative approval of Government has been obtained, and in no case before, the local authority may arrange for the preparation of detailed plans and estimates, and for this purpose may—

(b) apply to the Sanitary Board for the services of the Sanitary Engineer; or

(c) apply to Government in the Public Works Department for the services of their officers; or

(d) apply to the District Board for the services of the District Engineer; or

The Sanitary Board shall, after examining the plans, estimates, report and application, submit them to the Municipal Department of Government with an expression of their opinion on the merits of the scheme as finally drawn up.

SURFACE DRAINAGE.

Preparation of detailed plans and estimates for surface drainage project.

6. When a local authority desires to undertake a project for surface drainage, it shall forthwith, without necessarily obtaining administrative approval to the scheme, arrange for the preparation of detailed plans and estimates, and for this purpose may —

(c) apply to the District Board for the services of the District Engineer; or,

(d) with the previous sanction of the Sanitary Board, entrust the work to a private firm of established reputation.

In every case the plans and estimates shall be subject to the examination and control of the Sanitary Engineer.

Submission of plans and estimates to Government, through Sanitary Board.

7. The plans and estimates shall, on completion, be forwarded in duplicate to the Sanitary Board, accompanied, if a loan is required, by an application in the prescribed form. The Sanitary Board shall, after an examination of the plans, estimate and application, submit them with an expression of their opinion on the merits of the scheme to the Municipal Department of Government.

FEES.

Fees.

8. The following fees shall be leviable by the Sanitary Board from local authorities for the work specified against each:—

Conditions as to detailed engineering supervision.

10. Where the cost of projected works is estimated to amount to Rs. 10,000 or more, an adequate provision for detailed engineering supervision shall be a condition precedent to the grant of sanction by the Government.

In the absence of special sanction to the contrary, the local authority shall agree to such one of the following conditions as may be considered suitable in each case:—

(a) that the work shall be carried out by the Public Works Department if that Department can undertake it: in such cases an extra charge of 15 per cent. on the sanctioned estimates shall be made for supervision, unless the case is one of extraordinary difficulty, under which circumstances a higher charge may be imposed under the orders of Government; or

(b) that arrangements shall be made with the District Board for the carrying out of the work by the District Engineer and his staff; or

Port Adelaide river—Extra Beacons placed—Amended Sailing Directions.

No. 243 (second publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 62, dated 10th February 1906, issued by this office, the Secretary, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further notice (No. 11 of 1906) that eight extra beacons have been placed on the north and east side of the cutting. The beacons are painted black and the lanterns green, from which a green light showing towards the cutting is exhibited; a white light is also exhibited from the back of each lantern showing towards the shore.

All the green light beacons are numbered from the first or seaward beacon with the letter "G" added as follows:—No. 0G, being outside beacon; No. 1G, near the reflecting beacon; No. 2G, opposite the old boat channel. This light indicates the turning point from No. 2 (red) lead towards No. 3. All the others, that is, Nos. 3G to 9G, both inclusive, are placed opposite the corresponding numbers of the white light beacons on the other side of the cutting.

All the single light beacons are placed about 15 feet back from the cutting, and painted red to starboard and black to port. The lights are white to starboard and green to port from seaward.

The red light on the pile beacon south of No. 3 being no longer required will, on and after the 1st June 1906, be discontinued.

In consequence of the above alterations the sailing directions have been amended to read as follows:—

Sailing Directions.

By night.—In approaching the anchorage, vessels of deep draught should not bring the white light on the old structure to bear north of N. E. by E. in order to avoid the four-fathom patch, which bears N. W. half N. from the light on Wonga Shoal; then get No. 1 lead (which consists of two red lights vertical 10 feet apart, and two white lights vertical 11 feet 9 inches apart) in line; keep these in line passing between the occulting light on the red buoy and the outer green light on the north bank, also between the other green lights on the north bank and the white lights on the revetment mound.

Steer on the same line until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are coming on; then steer with them in line until abreast of No. 2G beacon; then direct the course to pass between No. 3 and No. 3G beacons; and so on from beacon to beacon round the point until No. 9 is reached. From a safe distance off No. 9 the lights of No. 10 lead will be seen; keep them in line until the red light is about a quarter of a point open to the right of the white light of No. 11 lead; then gradually alter the course to bring the lights of No. 11 lead in line; keep them in line (a sharp look out being kept for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand) until the lights of No. 12 lead are seen coming into line; proceed as before by altering the course before the lights are on with each other. The same applies in the change from No. 12 to No. 13 lead. When the lights on the wharves are seen opening out off Luff Point, alter the course so as to round the point at a safe distance, and then up the centre of the channel, looking out for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand.

In going outwards the directions are just the opposite to those given for those coming inwards; but in such case, in changing from one lead to another, the course should be gradually altered when abreast of the low (red) beacon of each lead, excepting No. 2 lead. In this case, when abreast of No. 3 beacon, gradually alter the course to a safe distance off No. 2G until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are in line, then proceed outwards with No. 2 lead in line.

By day.—The directions by day are the same as by night, merely substituting the beacons for the lights.

This affects Admiralty Charts 2389A and [illegible], 1750 and 1752.

During the progress of the work at the Light's Passage Harbour Works, masters of vessels exempt from pilotage may, if they so desire, avail themselves of the services of a pilot to assist them in passing such works, either in or out, at one-half the usual rates.

If the usual exemption flag is not hoisted, it will be taken as a signal that a pilot is required. At night if a pilot is required the usual signal for a pilot should be shown.

N.B.—Owing to the nature of the work in progress, this notice may require to be amended from time to time, and therefore should be treated as tentative only.

INDIA, WEST—Bombay coast.

No. 244 (second publication).—The Bombay Government has given notice (No. 65 of 1906) that several blocks of concrete have been washed off the works at the East end of the Ballard Pier Extension somewhat obstructing the passage to the old steps.

3. Vessels approaching this draught should not pass between the Buoy and end of the new Pier Extension works.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 26th June 1906.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 2017, dated the 21st May 1906, from the Port Officer, Calcutta, submitting the Annual Report of his Department for the year 1905-1906.

AT the close of the year there were 49 qualified Pilots on the strength, being the same number as in the previous year. Two casualties occurred during the year, and were met by the appointment as Mate Pilots of two qualified leadsmen. Three leadsmen apprentices were appointed during the year.

The sanctioned strength of the Service is 58. This can only be worked up to as the leadsmen qualify. At the close of the year there were 18 leadsmen in training as against 17 in the previous year.

2. The following revised scale of tonnage for the different grades of Pilots having been found to work satisfactorily was sanctioned as a permanent arrangement :—

Branch Pilots	...	...	Above 3,400 tons.
Senior Master Pilots	...	...	From above 1,800 tons to 3,400 tons.
Junior „ „	...	...	„ „ 1,800 tons to 2,800 tons.
Mate Pilots	...	...	Up to 1,800 tons.

3. One thousand five hundred and fifty-three vessels arrived at the port during the year, and the number of vessels that sailed from it was 1,569. The total number of arrivals and departures was thus 3,132, or 105 more than that of the previous year. These figures represent a gross tonnage of 5,818,673 inwards and 5,838,994 outwards. Of the total number of vessels visiting the port, only 17 were sailing ships. The average tonnage of steam and sailing vessels inwards and outwards was 3,722, against 3,734 in the previous year.

4. The pilotage receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 13,62,785, against Rs. 13,54,160 of the previous year.

5. There has been an increase in the number of vessels drawing over 21 feet, which were piloted outwards, but a slight decrease in the number of inward steamers as compared with those of the preceding year. Altogether 19 vessels, 9 inward and 10 outward, were neaped for want of sufficient depth of water over the bars, against 15 vessels during the previous year. The number of vessels detained at the Sandheads for want of Pilots was six, as compared with 13 in the year 1904-05. The shortest detention was 14 hours 45 minutes, and the longest 27 hours 50 minutes, the average detention being 20 hours 7 minutes.

6. There were 7 collisions and 22 groundings, against 5 collisions and 23 groundings in the previous year. In two cases of collision the Pilots concerned were held to blame for error of judgment. With regard to the groundings, the Pilots were in fault in three instances.

7. Forty-one preliminary enquiries into shipping casualties were held by the Port Officer, of which four were referred to Departmental Courts of Enquiry and eight to Special Courts of Enquiry. In five cases the Pilots were held to blame, and they were suitably dealt with by this Government. No Marine Court under Act XII of 1859 was held during the year.

8. One hundred and eight candidates appeared at the examination for Colonial and Home Trade certificates of competency, of whom 65 passed; 390 candidates also appeared at the different examinations for certificates of competency as Masters, Serangs, Engineers, and Engine-drivers under Act VI of 1884, but only 132 were successful.

9. Mr. G. Robertson was on leave up to 31st October 1905. During this period Mr. F. Olford, R.I.M., acted as First Engineer and Shipwright Surveyor, and Mr. C. F. Laslett, R.I.M., as Second Engineer and Shipwright Surveyor. On the return of Mr. Robertson from leave, Mr. Olford reverted to his substantive appointment as Second Engineer and Shipwright Surveyor and Mr. Laslett to the Royal Indian Marine.

10. Commander E. J. Beaumont, R.I.M., presided over the Department up to 6th July 1905, when he proceeded on leave, and did not resume charge of the Port and Shipping Offices until the 19th October 1905. During his absence Commander J. H. D. St. John, R.I.M., officiated as Port Officer and Shipping Master, but he reverted to the Royal Indian Marine after making over charge of the office to Lieutenant C. B. Henley, R.I.M., on the 4th October 1905, P.M.

Lieutenant Henley continued as Assistant Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master until the tenure of his appointment expired on the 16th January 1906, A.M., when he was relieved by Lieutenant A. S. Balfour, R.I.M.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1905.

Calcutta, the 7th July 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 1710S.

READ—

The Annual Statistical Returns and Short Notes on Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1905-1906.

Major Clarkson, I.M.S., was in charge of the Department up to the 15th March 1905, when he was succeeded by Captain W. W. Clemesha, I.M.S., by whom the present Report is submitted. The Report does not deal with the districts which were transferred to the newly created Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

Climatic Conditions.—Mention is made in the Report of the peculiar weather conditions of the year, namely very low temperature and excessive rainfall during the pre-monsoon period, abnormal heat in June, and the early cessation of the monsoon. These conditions were very favouable for the development of plague and malaria during the earlier months of the year, and rendered the last quarter most unhealthy.

Births.—These conditions were reflected in the vital statistics. Excluding the district of Angul, to which the system of registration of births and deaths has not yet been extended, and the district of Sambalpur, the statistics of which are not yet available, the number of births registered in the Province was 1,973,301, or 39·55 per mille of population. In 1904, the birth-rate was 42·39 per mille. The value of vital statistics however depends upon the accuracy with which they are collected. These are verified by the Inspecting Staff of the Vaccination Department, and the result of their inquiries showed that ·87 and ·72 per cent. respectively of the births and deaths which they checked had not been registered at all. Since the close of the year the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India has made a number of suggestions for testing the accuracy of vital statistics. These proposals have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, has been asked to submit a definite scheme for giving effect to them

Deaths.—Turning to the death-rate it is found that a considerable rise in the general mortality is reported, the number of deaths registered being 1,922,369, or 38·53 per mille, which was the highest rate recorded during the last twenty years. This increase is ascribed by the Sanitary Commissioner and the reporting officers to the greater unhealthiness of the year. The districts of Gaya, Patna, Shahabad, and Saran were the worst sufferers, with death-rates of over 50 per mille; while the healthiest districts were Singhbhum (22·05), Ranchi (25·50), and Manbhum (26·23). Chota Nagpur was, as usual, the healthiest Division, with a death-rate of only 27·72; while the highest mortality occurred in the Patna Division, where a death-rate of 45·86 per mille was recorded.

Infant Mortality.—The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the mortality among infants rose from 183·4 per mille of births in 1904 to 208·6 in 1905. The causes of this great loss of infant life were discussed in the Resolution recorded by Government on the Sanitary Report for 1904, and there is little new to add to the subject. Leaflets in the vernacular were prepared by the Sanitary Commissioner containing simple instructions for the rearing and care of infants and also prescribing the diet of Indian mothers after childbirth, and were distributed broadcast through the province. These may in time do good by helping to remove old prejudices and by bringing to the homes of the mass of the people the light of modern ideas. The highest infantile mortality (310 per mille) was, as usual, recorded in Calcutta.

Cholera.—The mortality from cholera was the highest recorded since 1901. The deaths from this disease numbered 146,339, giving a ratio of 2·93 per mille against 1·63 in 1904, and 2·77 the quinquennial average. With the exception of the Chota Nagpur Division, which recorded a death-rate from this cause of only ·35 per mille, the whole Province suffered severely, the ravages of the disease being worst in the districts of Gaya (6·63 per mile), Purnea (5·17), Patna (5·00), Shahabad (4·94), Howrah (4·78) and Bhagalpur (4·74). In Puri the cholera mortality rose from ·99 in 1904 to 3·97 in 1905.

Plague.—The mortality from plague was the highest on record since it first broke out in 1898, the total number of deaths being 126,084 against 75,433 in the previous year and 58,225, the average of the last quinquennium. The period of greatest prevalence was as usual January to April, but the climax was reached in the month of March, in which month alone 40,090 deaths from plague were returned. Twenty-seven districts were more or less affected by the disease, the districts that suffered most being Saran, Patna Gaya, Shahabad, Monghyr, and Calcutta. The most conspicuous change in the opinion of experts in India regarding plague is the greatly increased importance now ascribed to the part played by rats in spreading and keeping alive the disease. In fact almost all the evidence regarding the causation of the disease is now regarded as pointing to the rat as the chief agent in its diffusion. During the year under review rat extermination was carried on in many parts of the Province, but notably in the Giridih coal-fields and in Bihar. As an example of the efficacy of rat extermination, the Sanitary Commissioner cites the instance of Jagadispur in the Shahabad district. The operations were carried on there very thoroughly, and though there was a good deal of the disease in Shahabad, Jagadispur itself enjoyed complete immunity despite the fact that a very large number of people from other badly infected localities came to reside there. Captain Clemesha, however, thinks it premature to conclude that because there has been little or no plague in places where rat extermination has been carried out, this happy result is due to the removal of the influence of rats. The arrangements to keep up the campaign for at least another 12 months are complete, and if, as is not impossible, a virulent and widespread epidemic occurs next winter, the places where rat extermination has been carried on will have an opportunity of demonstrating conclusively the usefulness or otherwise of this method of protecting the people. Altogether 1,544 plague inoculations were performed during the year.

Fever.—Altogether 1,214,487 deaths were reported from fever, the death-rate from this cause representing a ratio of 24·34 against 20·49 per mille in the preceding year, and accounting for 63·17 per cent. of the total deaths registered from different causes during 1905. The worst affected districts were Shahabad with 37·76 deaths per mille, Nadia 37·30, Gaya 36·28, Purnea 34·67, and Jessore 33·02. In Calcutta the death-rate from fever was only 5·13 per thousand.

A useful note was drawn up by the Sanitary Commissioner explaining the steps to be taken in municipalities for the prevention of malaria, and was widely circulated Anti-malarial measures, which aimed at the destruction of mosquitoes, were tried at Berhampore and Balasore, and though it cannot be claimed that they have as yet yielded great results, they have at least demonstrated that a considerable reduction in the number of mosquitoes can be effected at a comparatively small cost and they have paved the way for more complete operations which will now be carried out at Berhampore, Ranaghat (in Nadia), Jagadispur (in Shahabad), and Mohespur (in Jessore). In order to increase the facilities for the distribution of quinine through the agency of village schoolmasters, orders have been issued since the close of the year to open additional distributing centres at village schools so that no area may be more than 5 miles from a dispensary or a post office or a school where the drug is distributed.

The prevalence of malaria in Bengal has for many years engaged the attention of Government, and in March 1905 prominent attention was drawn to it by a member of the Legislative Council who asked for the appointment of a Commission or Committee of Enquiry to investigate the causes of death from malaria in Bengal and the remedies to be applied. It is believed that, particularly in the Presidency Division, the main cause of malaria is the obstruction of drainage caused by the gradual rise of the delta, and two important drainage projects have already been determined on in this Division, namely, the Magra Hát scheme in the 24-Parganas and the Bhairab Valley scheme in Jessore. The Lieutenant-Governor has now decided that the whole of the Presidency Division should be examined, and that a list should be prepared of all practicable drainage schemes, so that a definite programme of action may be drawn up. With this object a small Committee has been appointed, whose duty it will be to ascertain in what areas in the Presidency Division malaria is prevalent, and if the cause of the disease is held to be obstructed drainage, to decide whether a drainage scheme is practicable and to prepare a list of such schemes arranged in order of urgency. The Report of the Committee is to be submitted to Government before the end of March 1907.

On the other hand, in order to ascertain to what extent drainage works produce a beneficial effect in lessening the ravages of malaria, instructions have recently been issued to the Sanitary Commissioner to make special investigations in those areas which have been influenced by such projects. The malaria index will be worked out in the tract both before and after the completion of the drainage works; the death-rate from fever will be carefully recorded in each area for five years before and five years after the completion of the schemes; and at all hospitals and dispensaries in the tracts affected the attendance of patients suffering from malaria will be ascertained for the quinquennial periods both before and after the completion of the works.

Dysentery and Diarrhœa.—The mortality from dysentery and diarrhœa was also heavier in the year under review than in 1904, the total number of deaths returned as due to this cause being 45,260, or a ratio of ·90 against ·82 per mille in 1904. Orissa suffered most and lost 2·93 per thousand of its population from this cause. These diseases have been made the subject of a special enquiry by the Sanitary Department, and the Sanitary Commissioner's report embodying the results of his enquiries is now under the consideration of Government.

Sanitary Improvements.—Compared with 1903-1904 there was an increase in the expenditure incurred by municipal bodies under the heads "Conservancy" and "Drainage," but a falling of under "water-supply. Considerable activity was displayed by many municipalities in the administration of the various branches of Sanitation. Drainage schemes were under various stages of preparation, and in some cases preliminary survey was being or about to be made; and steps were taken by many towns to improve their water-supply. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with pleasure the list of sanitary works carried out in different parts of the Province by municipalities and other bodies.

As stated in paragraph 14 of the Resolution recorded on the last Sanitary Report, enquiries were made during the year under review to ascertain whether filtration through sand and the application of sulphate of copper rendered the effluent from septic tank installations bacteriologically pure. The net result of the experiments was to show that these methods, either separately or in combination, were capable of purifying the effluent, but that in practice they were likely to prove difficult and expensive in proportion to the amount of impurity in the material to be treated; and it was considered doubtful whether they would be practicable in the case of effluents of a high degree of impurity except as adjuncts to other methods of treatment. Sterilization of the effluent was then attempted by means of chlorinated lime. The experiment proved successful, and it was found that an addition of this material equivalent to five grains for each gallon of effluent rendered the fluid virtually sterile.

The cost of the process is also exceedingly low. At the request of this Government, Dr. Gilbert Fowler, a specialist in the biological disposal of sewage, was sent out from England to enquire into the septic tank installations in Bengal. He conducted his enquiries during the period from January to April 1906, and his report is awaited by Government. The Sanitary Commissioner reports that septic tank latrines are an entire success when used for communities such as mills, large schools, railway workshops, and the like, and he is now considering whether they cannot be adapted to municipal towns. He will be asked to submit a report embodying the results of his experiments. The Sanitary Commissioner has also made a number of suggestions for the adoption in municipalities of the septic tank method as a substitute for trenching grounds. Mention should be made in the next Sanitary Report as to what extent Municipal Commissioners have been able to adopt his proposals.

The Sanitary Board.—During the year 1905 the Sanitary Board considered the preliminary estimate of cost of a water-works project for the town of Monghyr and the detailed estimates for the Khulna water-supply scheme. Plans and estimates of drainage schemes in twelve municipalities and of water-supply schemes in two municipalities were also considered. Considerable activity was displayed by several municipalities in the preparation of detailed schemes for surface drainage.

Vaccination.—The vaccination returns for the year are confined to the districts now within the reconstituted Province of Bengal. The death-rate from small-pox for the whole Province in 1905-1906 (·22 per mille) was slightly higher than that for the previous year (·17 per mille), but compares favourably with the average death-rate for the past 10 years which was ·37. Perhaps the most noticeable feature of the returns is the large increase in the death-rate in Calcutta from ·14 per mille in 1904-1905 to 2·34 in 1905-1906 as a result of a severe outbreak of small-pox during the cold weather. The death-rate in Puri was also high, that being the only district in the Province where the protection afforded to infants is below 200 per mille. In Cuttack there has been a steady decrease in the annual death-rate from 3·65 in 1900-1901 to ·04 in the year under review, the number of successful vaccinations having increased nearly 100 per cent. during these years. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to doubt that similar results could be obtained in the neighbouring district of Puri, and he trusts that the Sanitary Commissioner will devote special attention to this district during the coming season. The returns generally show a satisfactory increase in the outturn of work, the total number of operations recorded being 2,041,230 as against 1,818,231 in the previous year; and there is also a large increase in the cases of revaccination, which is mainly due to the special efforts made by the Corporation of Calcutta to combat the recent severe outbreak of small-pox. In the districts the best returns were received from Saran, Midnapore, Jessore, Shahabad, and Nadia, and the Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the Tributary States of Orissa also returned a large increase—12,142. The substitution of vaccination from prepared lymph for arm-to-arm vaccination has recently been sanctioned by Government, and will be introduced at once in the districts of the Burdwan, Presidency, and Orissa Divisions and in the rest of the Province gradually. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notice the good work done by the Department during the year, and hopes that still further improvement will result from the measures which have lately been taken to improve the status and efficiency of the vaccinating staff.

The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to Captain Clemesha for his interesting report, and for the zeal and energy with which he has administered the departments under his charge. The attention of Commissioners, District Officers and all Local Bodies is especially drawn to those paragraphs of the Report which deal with the questions of rat extermination and septic tank installations.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. McINTOSH,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT UNDER SECTION 41 OF BENGAL ACT I OF 1893 ON THE WAREHOUSES IN HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st MARCH 1906.

No. 1694M.—The 4th July 1906.—The following report is published for general information.

H. J. McINTOSH,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 417, dated Howrah, the 4th June 1906.

From—The Chairman of the Howrah Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

I HAVE the honour to report that 308 warehouses were licensed in 1905-06, out of 331 registered during that year, against 270 out of 300 registered in 1904-05, the details being as follows:—

Years.		Jute.	Cotton.	Straw.	Wood.	Hay.	Waste paper.	Resin.	Total.
Registered	1904-05 ...	40	39	37	183	1	...	...	300

	1905-06 ...	34	34	35	201	1	2	1	308

2. The income from license-fees during the year under report amounted to Rs. 9,564, of which Rs. 142 were arrears for 1904-05, against Rs. 8,920 for 1904-05, of which Rs. 219 were arrears for 1903-04, a considerable improvement over the preceding year.

3. The demand, collection, remission and balance for 1905-06 are shewn in Appendix A. The details of jute and cotton warehouses registered and of licenses granted during the year are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 240 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood, hay, waste paper and resin in 1905-06 against 207 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B, and it may be noted that such license-fees have only been levied under the Fire-brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

4. There were 55 prosecutions in the year under review, which realized in fines Rs. 145-8 as against 32 in the previous year when Rs. 180-8 was realized.

5. The expenditure incurred in assessing and collecting license-fees amounted to Rs. 959 as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Salary of General Supervisor and Assessor ...	600
Ditto Inspector, including commission ...	249
Ditto clerk	60
Ditto peon	48
Contingencies	2
Total ...	959

6. The Fire-brigade establishment continued under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The Fire-brigade station in Howrah stands in a very central position north of the Municipal market, and from a wooden stage raised above it the whole town is overlooked. There were 14 fires during the year, against 10 in the previous year, the details of which are given in Appendix C. There were also 11 other petty fires, against 4 in the previous year, at all of which the Fire-brigade attended, while they were extinguished by residents of the localities.

7. The Commissioner of Police demanded Rs. 8,617 for the maintenance of the Fire brigade in 1905-06, and this amount was remitted to him during the year.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain was fairly general all over the Province, the fall being for the most part light except at Darjeeling, Sambalpur and Palamau, where it was heavy. More rain is needed, especially in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, for transplantation of winter paddy. Jute and sugarcane are reported to be doing well. Locusts appeared in Champaran and Monghyr, causing only some slight damage in the latter district. Some damage to jute and paddy by insect-pests is reported from the 24-Parganas. Cattle-disease exists in nine districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in eight and fallen in two districts. It continues high in most districts.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the traces of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; K, thunderstorm; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Publications:—Africa Pilot, Part II, 1901, page 84; and Africa Pilot, Part III, 1905, page 17.

Also that the time-ball at the Custom House flagstaff, Newchwang, is dropped every day at $0^h\ 0^m\ 0^s$ mean time of the 120° of East longitude, or $16^h\ 0^m\ 0^s$ G.M.T., instead of on Saturdays at $0^h\ 0^m\ 0^s$ Local Mean time as formerly. Further particulars in regard to this signal are not given, but it is presumed that Standard time of the 120th meridian of East longitude has been adopted at Newchwang for general use.

(Variation 4° Westerly in 1906.)

(b) The shoal, about 45 yards in extent, with a depth of 11 feet, situated in approximately lat. 6° 4′ 5″ S., long. 106° 51′ 5″ E.

As this discoloured water was merely observed by the Master of the German ship Rebecca in 1875 without any means being taken to ascertain if it was shoal water or not, the words "Discoloured water" have been erased from the charts.

Approximate position, lat. 0° 30′ N., long. 106° 38′ E.

Port Adelaide river—Extra Beacons placed—Amended Sailing Directions.

No. 243 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 62, dated 10th February 1906, issued by this office, the Secretary, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further notice (No. 11 of 1906) that eight extra beacons have been placed on the north and east side of the cutting. The beacons are painted black and the lanterns green, from which a green light showing towards the cutting is exhibited; a white light is also exhibited from the back of each lantern showing towards the shore.

All the green light beacons are numbered from the first or seaward beacon with the letter "G" added as follows:—No. 0G, being outside beacon; No. 1G, near the reflecting beacon; No. 2G, opposite the old boat channel. This light indicates the turning point from No. 2 (red) lead towards No. 3. All the others, that is, Nos. 3G to 9G, both inclusive, are placed opposite the corresponding numbers of the white light beacons on the other side of the cutting.

All the single light beacons are placed about 15 feet back from the cutting, and painted red to starboard and black to port. The lights are white to starboard and green to port from seaward.

The red light on the pile beacon south of No. 3 being no longer required will, on and after the 1st June 1906, be discontinued.

In consequence of the above alterations the sailing directions have been amended to read as follows:—

Sailing Directions.

By night.—In approaching the anchorage, vessels of deep draught should not bring the white light on the old structure to bear north of N. E. by E. in order to avoid the four-fathom patch, which bears N. W. half N. from the light on Wonga Shoal; then get No. 1 lead (which consists of two red lights vertical 10 feet apart, and two white lights vertical 11 feet 9 inches apart) in line; keep these in line passing between the occulting light on the red buoy and the outer green light on the north bank, also between the other green lights on the north bank and the white lights on the revetment mound.

Steer on the same line until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are coming on; then steer with them in line until abreast of No. 2G beacon; then direct the course to pass between No. 3 and No. 3G beacons; and so on from beacon to beacon round the point until No. 9 is reached. From a safe distance off No. 9 the lights of No. 10 lead will be seen; keep them in line until the red light is about a quarter of a point open to the right of the white light of No. 11 lead; then gradually alter the course to bring the lights of No. 11 lead in line; keep them in line (a sharp look out being kept for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand) until the lights of No. 12 lead are seen coming into line; proceed as before by altering the course before the lights are on with each other. The same applies in the change from No. 12 to No. 13 lead. When the lights on the wharves are seen opening out off Luff Point, alter the course so as to round the point at a safe distance, and then up the centre of the channel, looking out for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand.

In going outwards the directions are just the opposite to those given for those coming inwards; but in such case, in changing from one lead to another, the course should be gradually altered when abreast of the low (red) beacon of each lead, excepting No. 2 lead. In this case, when abreast of No. 3 beacon, gradually alter the course to a safe distance off No. 2G until the two red lights of No. 2 lead are in line, then proceed outwards with No. 2 lead in line.

By day.—The directions by day are the same as by night, merely substituting the beacons for the lights.

This affects Admiralty Charts 2389A and B, 1750 and 1752.

During the progress of the work at the Light's Passage Harbour Works, masters of vessels exempt from pilotage may, if they so desire, avail themselves of the services of a pilot to assist them in passing such works, either in or out, at one-half the usual rates.

If the usual exemption flag is not hoisted, it will be taken as a signal that a pilot is required. At night if a pilot is required the usual signal for a pilot should be shown.

N.B.—Owing to the nature of the work in progress, this notice may require to be amended from time to time, and therefore should be treated as tentative only.

INDIA, WEST—Bombay coast.

No. 244 (third publication).—The Bombay Government has given notice (No. 65 of 1906) that several blocks of concrete have been washed off the works at the East end of the Ballard Pier Extension somewhat obstructing the passage to the old steps.

2. A small black painted conical Buoy will be moored to mark the end of this obstruction which has a depth on it of 12 feet at Low Water.

3 Vessels approaching this draught should not pass between the Buoy and end of the new Pier Extension works.

Information, dated 17th May 1906, has been received from the Captain of the Port that the following lights at Diu, viz., the Red fixed light of the Forte de Mar and the White fixed light on the Castle Culwark foundation, will not be exhibited during the months of June, July and August 1906.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE REFORMATORY SCHOOLS AT ALIPORE AND HAZARIBAGH FOR THE YEAR 1905.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 9th July 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 1823.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Reformatory Schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh for the year 1905.

1. The number of boys admitted to the Reformatory Schools in 1905 was 95, the lowest figure reached since 1898. In accordance with the instructions issued by the Bengal Government in 1901, the Boards of Management examined the lists of admission with a view to ascertain whether there were any cases in which boys might have been more suitably dealt with if they had been discharged on probation of good conduct under section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code, or after due admonition under section 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act, VIII of 1897.

The result of this scrutiny was that 9 boys were discharged under the orders of Government from the Alipore School, and one from the Hazaribagh School.

It appears from the judicial returns for the Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam that 348 youthful offenders were discharged on probation of good conduct under section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code, while 40 boys were discharged after admonition or made over to their guardians under section 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act. The corresponding figures for 1904 were 365 and 42 respectively.

2. The health of the inmates of the Reformatories was satisfactory. The number of boys admitted to hospital at the Alipore School was about the same as in 1904. At the Hazaribagh School the number rose from 86 in 1904 to 110 in 1905. The complaints, however, from which the boys suffered were mostly of a trivial character.

3. There was a marked decrease in the number of punishments inflicted, especially at Alipore, where the number fell from 107 to 52.

4. There was no remarkable increase or decrease in the number of marks obtained by the boys for good conduct and industry, and their average earnings were much the same as in 1904.

5. Due attention was paid to gymnastics, drill, and games at both schools, and the band which was formed at Alipore in July 1905, has made fair progress.

6. At both Reformatories considerable attention was paid to education and the boys were taught up to the Lower Primary and Upper Primary standards. At Hazaribagh 20 boys reached the Lower and 13 the Upper Primary Standard; at Alipore the numbers were respectively 9 and 5. The Director of Public Instruction is requested to report the result of his enquiries into the causes of this comparative failure at Alipore.

7. In accordance with established policy boys of the agricultural castes were sent to Hazaribagh, where attention is chiefly paid to the subjects of cultivation and market gardening. Of the 129 boys in this school, 64 were engaged in these pursuits. The results of the system appear to be satisfactory, especially when compared with the results of the industrial training which is given to the boys at Alipore. Of the 128 boys released during the three years preceding the year under review who had been trained to agriculture, as many as 81 were found to be following that calling after their discharge.

Industrial training has not been so successful, and the question will receive further consideration with a view to the introduction of any changes which may appear necessary. Out of 210 boys released during the three years preceding 1905, who had been taught a trade, only 25 were found to be engaged in the trade in which they had received instruction at school.

Of the total number of boys released during the same period (338), no less than 65 were untraced. The efforts made to keep a watch over discharged boys were therefore unsuccessful to this extent.

8. In 1905 the total number of boys under license from the Alipore School was 71. Of these 11 ran away from their employers and 11 were sent back to school for bad conduct and laziness. The number of boys licensed from Hazaribagh was 34, of whom 8 returned to school.

9. A Committee was appointed in November last to consider various questions connected with the management of juvenile offenders both in the schools and after their discharge. The Committee have now submitted a valuable report, which is under the consideration of this Government.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL IN THE YEAR 1905-1906.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 7B.—T.S.R.—The 12th July 1906.—The following Resolution by the Board of Revenue, regarding the administration of the Stamp Department in Bengal in the year 1905-1906, and an abstract of the receipts and charges for the year are published for general information.

RESOLUTION.

STAMPS.

THE HON'BLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.

Dated Calcutta, the 4th July 1906.

THE Annual Statistics of the Stamp Department for the year 1905-1906 have been compiled in the prescribed Statements I to VII. The statistics for the districts transferred to the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam have been excluded, while those for the district of Sambalpur, which has been added to Bengal, have been incorporated in the statements.

2. Statement I.—The figures of general receipts and charges for the year 1905-1906 obtained from the Accountant-General have not as yet been finally verified, and are, therefore, liable to subsequent adjustment.

3. The revenue collected under the Stamp and Court-fees Acts amounted to Rs. 1,41,83,281, against Rs. 1,35,57,869 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 6,25,412. The figures adopted in the revised budget estimate for the year were Rs. 1,42,00,000, or Rs. 16,719 more than was actually realised. The increase of revenue was obtained both from Judicial and Non-judicial stamps.

The total charges during the year amounted to Rs. 3,53,153, the increase of 6·6 per cent. over the figures of 1904-1905 being mainly under "refunds."

4. Statements II and III.—The statistics of receipts from the sale of the different kinds of stamps under the heads Judicial and Non-judicial in the several districts of the Province have been compiled, as in the previous year, from the figures furnished by the Commissioners of Divisions. It will be noticed that there is a discrepancy of Rs. 15,262 between the figures of total receipts during 1905-1906 given in these statements and those furnished in Statement I. This cannot be reconciled until finally verified statistics are received from the Accountant-General.

5. The sale-proceeds of Court-fee stamps excluding stamps for copies, rose from Rs. 90,31,486 to Rs. 96,13,749, that is, by Rs. 5,82,263. The greater portion of the increase was contributed by the districts of Calcutta (Rs. 2,34,594), Midnapore (Rs. 56,697), Purnea (Rs. 41,963), Bhagalpur (Rs. 38,891), the 24-Parganas (Rs. 31,332), Murshidabad (Rs. 24,558), Darbhanga (Rs. 23,358), Hazaribagh (Rs. 22,995), Patna (Rs. 21,745) and Shahabad (Rs. 20,610). The increase in Calcutta is attributed mainly to the heavy probate duties paid in respect of some estates, one of which alone brought in Rs. 1,19,689. The increase in the districts of Purnea and Bhagalpur was due to survey and settlement operations. The increase in other districts is generally attributed to the increased number and value of civil suits and rent suits.

The largest decrease (Rs. 39,384) occurred in Gaya, and is attributed to the fact that the figures of the preceding year had been unusually swollen by the heavy probate duties paid in respect of some estates. The decrease (Rs. 18,212) in Muzaffarpur is ascribed to the marked falling off in the number of civil suits instituted, as well as to a decrease in the sale of stamps of higher value used for probates.

6. Non-judicial stamps yielded an increased revenue to the extent of Rs. 82,947 or 2·2 per cent., compared with the year 1904-1905. The increase was shared by all classes of stamps except one-anna receipt stamps and stamps for Legal Practitioners' licenses. The revenue derived from the sale of impressed stamps amounted to Rs. 20,83,098, against Rs. 19,33,515. The increase in the number of deeds executed, which gave this increase of revenue is ascribed in some districts to failure of harvests and the higher price of food grains and in other districts to survey and settlement operations. The revenue derived from the sale of hundis or inland bills-of-exchange was Rs. 1,34,422, showing an increase of Rs. 9,215 as compared with the receipts of the preceding year. The receipts from the sale of impressed labels, which are used only in Calcutta, amounted to Rs. 9,66,652, against Rs. 8,80,001. The increase is attributed to the growth of trade. The falling off in the sale of one-anna receipt stamps was due to the abolition of these stamps during the latter half of the year under review. The decrease in the sale of stamps for Legal Practitioners' licenses is mainly due to the fact that the sum of Rs. 24,887 shown against Calcutta during the year 1904-1905 included the sale of such stamps to the value of Rs. 20,250 made directly by the Controller of Stamps. The increase in the sale of forms for cheques or receipts was obtained mainly in Calcutta, and is attributed to the growth of trade. There was a decrease of Rs. 60,045 under the head "Miscellaneous Receipts" as compared with the previous year. The decrease was mainly in Calcutta and was due to the payment of smaller composition duty as well as to the absence of such exceptionally large stamp duties as were paid in the previous year under section 32 of the Stamp Act.

Statement IV.—The total number of vendors engaged in the sale of Judicial and Non-judicial stamps during the year was 2,987 showing a decrease as compared with the previous year of 75 persons. There was a considerable decrease in the number of vendors in the districts of the Chota Nagpur Division, where the average earnings of the vendors were very low. In Calcutta the number of vendors decreased by 12, and the reduction is attributed to the abolition of one-anna receipt stamps, the sale of which constituted a profitable source of income.

The discount allowed during the year exceeded that of the preceding year by Rs. 1,600. The increase was the necessary result of increased sales.

Statement V.—The total number of cases in which deficient duty and penalty were levied by the Courts during the year shows an increase of 125, and there was an increase of Rs. 2,284 in the duty and penalty realised in comparison with the realisations of the preceding year. There was an increase of 86 in the number of cases decided, but a decrease of Rs. 34,116 in the duty and penalty realised by Revenue officers, as compared with the figures of the previous year. The decrease occurred mainly in Calcutta and has been explained in the notes on statement III.

Statement VI.—The number of cases instituted for the infringement of the provisions of the Stamp Act was 667, in which 650 persons were tried against 295 cases and 311 persons in the preceding year. The fines imposed amounted to Rs. 5,701, against Rs. 4,711, while the amount distributed in rewards was Rs. 3,173, against Rs. 4,216. In Calcutta there was a marked increase in the number of cases instituted and the amount of fines imposed as compared with the preceding year. This was due to the larger number of cases detected during the year and the measures recently adopted for the detection of offences. The increased activity in detective measures adopted has resulted in certain complaints in Calcutta which are under enquiry by the Commissioner.

Statement VII.—Of the cases of the valuation of estates for the issue of probates or letters of administration reported during 1905-1906 84·2 per cent. were enquired into. The corresponding percentage in the preceding year was 83·2. The proportion borne by the deficit court-fees realised to the amount originally paid was 3 4 per cent. as compared with 5·6 per cent. in the previous year. The decrease in the amount of deficit court-fees is attributed to the greater care now taken by applicants for the grant of probate and letters of administration in valuing estates in conformity with the recognised principles of assessment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

R. B. MISRA,
Offg. Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT CALCUTTA AND AT THE PORTS OF ORISSA FOR 1905-06.

No. 1029Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 6th July 1906.

RESOLUTION.

Annual Report on the working of the Shipping Offices at Calcutta and at the Ports of Orissa for 1905-06.

READ—

Letter No. [illegible], dated 2nd May 1906, from the Shipping Master, Calcutta.
Letter No. 385C., dated 27th April 1906, from the Commissioner, Orissa Division.

The receipts of the Calcutta Shipping Office during the year 1905-06 amounted to Rs. 83,617 against Rs. 85,723 in the previous year. The reduction is mainly due to a decrease of Rs. 2,238 in the receipts from shipping fees.

2. The expenditure showed a decrease of Rs. 9,139, the figures being Rs. 41,180 against Rs. 50,319.

The main cause of the decrease is the fact that in 1904-05 the expenditure was raised abnormally owing to the repayment of arrears of overtime fees earned between 1901 and 1904.

3. Four Trust Funds are administered by the Shipping Office, the most important of which is that of the deposit-money of British seamen. The receipts of the funds as a whole were for the year Rs. 76,822 and the payments Rs. 76,300. During the year Rs. 1,168 lapsed to Government, of which Rs. 663 came from the fund for estates of deceased Indian seamen, Rs. 490 from the deposit-money fund of Indian seamen, and Rs. 15 from the ticket-money fund. At the close of the year the balances at credit of the funds amounted to Rs. 13,419.

4. The number of seamen shipped and discharged were—

Shipped	...	...	...	...	41,529
Discharged	...	...	...	...	37,804

There has been a slight increase in the number of seamen shipped under European articles, but the number discharged has decreased by 209. This result was obtained by close scrutiny into all applications submitted for discharge. The shipments and discharges under Indian articles show a large decreases of 477 and 1,167. This is attributed by the Shipping Master (1) to the gradual expansion of the port of Chittagong and (2) to the substitution of Europeans for natives in the Orient Pacific Line, which has hitherto largely utilized native labour in the working of their vessels.

5. In addition 123 seamen were shipped and 96 discharged by Foreign Consuls.

6. The number of distressed seamen assisted with passages to the United Kingdom during the year was 71, against 70 of the previous year. Of these, 27 were invalids, 39 were unable to obtain employment, and 5 were sent up from Singapore for repatriation.

7. The value of money-orders sent by European seamen was Rs. 9,497, against Rs. 8,198 during 1904-1905.

8. A judicial enquiry was held by the Magistrate of the 24-Parganas into an allegation of extortion made by a number of serangs and tindals against the licensed brokers. The Court was of opinion that the allegations were groundless. A complaint by the fireman-serang of the S.S. African Prince against the Chief Engineer of that vessel for attempting to extort money from him was investigated and found to be false and malicious. A complaint lodged by the European crew of the S.S. Taunton of being supplied with biscuits and flour unfit for human consumption was found to be justified and 2½ barrels of flour were condemned and destroyed. A complaint received from the European crew of the S.S. Egwanga regarding the quality of the meat issued to them proved to be groundless. One of the crew of the S.S. Dean complained that he had been disrated from sukhani to lascar by the Master because he refused to gratify the demands for money from the serang, but it was found that he was disrated for incompetence. Fourteen firemen of the S.S. Baron Balfour complained against the serang for having extorted Rs. 104 from them. It was found on enquiry that no complaints were made either to the Master, Officers and Engineers of the vessel, or to the authorities of the various ports of call, and further proceedings were abandoned.

9. No seamen were shipped or discharged at False Point during the year under review.

10. The Shipping Master of False Point visited two vessels against five in the preceding year for the purpose of inspecting their provisions, water, medicine, and crew accommodation. In both cases they were found good and ample.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

More rain is needed in the Burdwan, Presidency and Orissa Divisions for transplantation of aman paddy. Sugarcane and jute are reported to be doing well. Some damage to aus paddy by insect pests is reported from the 24-Parganas and Khulna. Prospects are on the whole fair. Cattle-disease exists in twelve districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in nine and fallen in six districts. It continues to be high in most districts.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1906.

SPECIAL interest attaches to the monthly weather report for June, as it is the month usually associated with the advance of monsoon conditions up the Bay and the commencement of the rains in Bengal. The last few days of the preceding month were characterised by abnormally low pressure at the head of the Bay, the defect exceeding a quarter of an inch at Akyab, and by an unusually steep pressure gradient. On the first of the month pressure commenced rapidly to recover and the gradient to become less steep. The recovery of pressure continued, and by the end of the first week pressure was extremely uniform over the Bay. During this first week light rain had been fairly general in Eastern Bengal and Assam, with occasional storms in Lower Bengal. At the commencement of the second week there was a distinct tendency towards the formation of a depression in the centre of the Bay, which, however, failed to develop owing possibly to the weakness of the moist winds feeding into it from the south. Rain was again fairly general in Assam and Eastern Bengal, and extended at the end of the week into North Bengal and Chota Nagpur, owing probably to the eastward movement of a low pressure area from the north-west. On the fourteenth of the month the steepening gradient of the strong winds at the south of the Bay and the heavy rain in Lower Burma indicated the probability that the monsoon current was beginning to strengthen. On the fifteenth the irregular winds off the Orissa coast suggested that another important change was taking place in the shape of the formation of a depression off Gopalpur. This depression slowly developed during the next three days, and on the 17th a storm of moderate intensity existed in the neighbourhood of Puri and Gopalpur. After further intensifying it crossed the coast over Gopalpur on the afternoon of the 18th, and may be said to have introduced the monsoon into Lower Bengal. Its passage overland was in a west-north-westerly direction, and was accompanied by general rain over practically the whole area under report. The Bay monsoon current continued to give steady rain over Bengal during the next few days. About the 23rd another depression appeared at the head of the Bay, and on the 25th after developing somewhat was lying to the south of Barisal. Although it was never very intense, it gave rise to very strong winds to the south and west; Saugor Island on the afternoon of the 25th reporting an average velocity of fifty-six miles an hour and Akyab thirty miles an hour. On the 27th it passed inland, moving in a northerly direction, and the moist current which had been to some extent checked in its northward path again passed freely into Bengal. During the last few days the area of lowest pressure was lying to the north-east or north of Calcutta, and the westerly winds resulting from this distribution introduced the moist current from the Arabian Sea into Bihar and Chota Nagpur, and rain became fairly general there

Summary of temperature.—Temperature conditions presented no very marked characteristics during the past month. As might be expected, average mean temperature for the month was above the normal mean in all Divisions, and the excess was greatest in Chota Nagpur and Bihar, which were the last of the Divisions to be affected by the moist current from the Bay.

Summary of rainfall.—Rainfall was deficient in all the Meteorological Divisions of Bengal, the defect being greatest in South-West Bengal. Taking the district returns, Balasore and a few districts in Bihar were alone in excess, while nearly every district in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur received less than 70 per cent. of its normal amount. The deficiency was mainly due to the general weakness of the monsoon and the delay in its establishment.

The following table gives the rainfall of the various divisions of Bengal in June and in each of the previous months of the present year as compared with the normal values for the same periods. The figures given represent the actual falls expressed as percentages of the normal falls:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

(c) Vessels and boats, except open boats as defined in subdivision (a), when line-fishing with their lines out and attached to or hauling their lines, and when not at anchor or stationary within the meaning of subdivision (b), shall carry the same lights as vessels fishing with drift-nets. When shooting lines, or fishing with towing lines, they shall carry the lights prescribed for a steam or sailing vessel under way respectively.

Within the Mediterranean Sea and in the seas bordering the coasts of Japan and Korea sailing fishing-vessels of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to carry the lower of these two lights. Should they, however, not carry it, they shall show in the same position (in the direction of the lines) a white light, visible at a distance of not less than one sea mile on the approach of or to other vessels.

(d) Vessels, when engaged in trawling, by which is meant the dragging of an apparatus along the bottom of the sea—

1. If steam-vessels shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a) a tri-coloured lantern so constructed and fixed as to show a white light from right ahead to two points on each bow, and a green light and a red light over an arc of the horizon from two points on each bow to two points abaft the beam on the starboard and port sides respectively; and not less than 6 nor more than 12 feet below the tri-coloured lantern a white light in a lantern, so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light all round the horizon.

2. If sailing-vessels shall carry a white light in a lantern, so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light all round the horizon, and shall also on the approach of or to other vessels show where it can best be seen a white flare-up light or torch in sufficient time to prevent collision.

All lights mentioned in subdivision (d) 1 and 2 shall be visible at a distance of at least two miles.

(e) Oyster dredgers and other vessels fishing with dredge-nets shall carry and show the same lights as trawlers.

(f) Fishing-vessels and fishing-boats may at any time use a flare-up light in addition to the lights which they are by this article required to carry and show, and they may also use working lights.

(g) Every fishing-vessel and every fishing-boat under 150 feet in length, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

Every fishing-vessel of 150 feet in length or upwards, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile, and shall exhibit a second light as provided for vessels of such length by Article 11.

Should any such vessel, whether under 150 feet in length, or of 150 feet in length or upwards, be attached to a net or other fishing gear, she shall on the approach of other vessels show an additional white light at least 3 feet below the anchor light, and at a horizontal distance of at least 5 feet away from it in the direction of the net or gear.

(h) If a vessel or boat when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall in daytime haul down the day signal required by subdivision (k); at night show the light or lights prescribed for a vessel at anchor; and during fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms make the signal prescribed for a vessel at anchor. (See subdivision (d) and the last paragraph of Article 15.)

(i) In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, drift-net vessels attached to their nets, and vessels when trawling, dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag-net, and vessels line-fishing with their lines out shall, if of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards, respectively, at intervals of not more than one minute make a blast; if steam-vessels, with the whistle or syren, and if sailing-vessels, with the fog-horn; each blast to be followed by ringing the bell. Fishing vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals; but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound signal at intervals of not more than one minute.

(k) All vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines or trawls, when under way, shall in daytime indicate their occupation to an approaching vessel by displaying a basket or other efficient signal where it can best be seen. If vessels or boats at anchor have their gear out, they shall, on the approach of other vessels, show the same signal on the side on which those vessels can pass.

The vessels required by this article to carry or show the lights hereinbefore specified shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a) and the last paragraph of Article 11.

This article shall be read and construed as part of the regulations contained in Schedule I to the Order in Council, under section 418 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, made the 27th day of November 1896, and as if it had formed one of such regulations and been numbered 9 among the articles containing the same.

[Reprinted from the "Gazette of India" of the 14th July 1906.]

The following Resolution, issued by the Government of India in the Foreign Department, is republished for general information:

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1573-G., dated Simla, the 13th July 1906.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Foreign Department.

The Governor-General in Council has for some time had under consideration various proposals for the reorganization of the Political Department of the Government of India, which has been rendered necessary by the inclusion in the Department of the North-West Frontier Province Service; by the increase in late years of the sphere of duties assigned to it; by the increasing difficulty which has been experienced in attracting to the lower grades members of the Indian Civil Service of suitable standing and attainments, and by the necessity of taking steps to diminish the slowness of promotion which has affected the prospects of some of the military officers of the Department.

The Governor-General in Council now desires to announce that the scheme of reorganization, which was recommended by Lord Curzon's Government, has been accepted by His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, who has sanctioned its introduction with effect from the 1st February 1906.

2. The principle of the reorganization is to establish a separate cadre for members of the Indian Civil Service (including military members of the Punjab Commission transferred to the North-West Frontier Province), so arranged as to secure to members of that service such a rate of promotion as will bring their prospects in the Political Department approximately up to the level of what they might reasonably count upon in their own Province in the ordinary line of appointments.

For other members of the Department, the object is to provide prospects which, though less lucrative than those of the members of the Indian Civil Service, shall be somewhat more favourable than those to which they could previously look forward.

3. The reorganised Department will, with effect from the 1st February 1906, comprise two separate cadres—one for members of the Indian Civil Service (including military officers of the Punjab Commission serving in the North-West Frontier Province who may elect for service in the Department) and the other for military officers and other members of the Department not being members of the Indian Civil Service or of the Punjab Commission.

The two cadres will be classed as "civil" and "general," respectively, and their respective strength will be as shown in the following table:—

	Civil.	General.	Total.
Cadre posts ... { Superior	26	46	109
Cadre posts ... { Inferior	8*	29

* Including one officer in the third or fourth year's service in the North-West Frontier Province corresponding to the one in training.

† The seven officers, who will be provided for in the grades of Assistant Collectors, will be made up of three in training, three in the third and fourth years' service, and one for a leave reserve.

Miscellaneous	1	Assistant Secretary in the Foreign Department.
Total ...	69	superior posts.

Provision has, however, been made for 72 officers in the higher grades in order to prevent the undue retardation of promotion in the general cadre. Of this number, three superior posts have not yet been allocated to definite appointments.

4. The grading of the service and the distribution of the appointments in the different grades between the civil and general cadres of the Department are shown in the following table:—

Appointment with pay.	Civil.	General.	Total.

GRAND TOTAL ...	46	104	150

5. The pay of the 14 highest appointments, which are classed are Residencies, will be localised, as under the present system, and promotion to these appointments will be by selection, not only from either cadre, but, if necessary, from outside the Department.

The pay of the remaining appointments will be delocalised, with the exception of two judicial appointments,* which it has been decided to retain as localised appointments in the North-West Frontier Province in the grades of Political Agent, 1st and 2nd classes. It is hoped that the constitution of the Judicial Commissionership as a Residency, 2nd class, and the localisation of the two other judicial appointments mentioned will afford an inducement to officers to enter the judicial line and ensure a continuity of trained officers in these very important posts.

* Divisional and Sessions Judge, Peshwar.
Divisional and Sessions Judge, Derajat.

6. Promotion, both substantive and officiating, in the grades below that of Resident, 3rd class, will, except in the case of the judicial appointments above referred to, be ordinarily by seniority in the cadre in which the vacancy occurs, subject to the provisos that—(a) an officer appointed permanently or temporarily to a superior post will draw the salary of a superior post, i.e., not less than that of a Political Agent, 4th class, substantive or officiating; (b) in the case of temporary officiating promotions from the grades of Assistants to those of Political Agents, the rule will be that, when an officer of one cadre is for reasons of administrative convenience appointed to officiate for an officer in the other cadre in a superior post, he shall draw the acting allowance admissible under rule, but that all other acting grade promotions consequent on such appointment shall be given in the cadre of the officer who creates the officiating vacancy.

7. It is intended to publish a quarterly Gradation List of the Department in future such as is published by Local Governments.

8. Two statements,* marked A and B, are attached to this Resolution, showing how the scheme of reorganisation, as introduced with effect from the 1st February, will affect individual officers.

There are a few individual cases in which there will be an immediate loss of salary, and to prevent this a personal allowance of such amount as will bring his emoluments up to the figure which he was drawing on the 1st February 1906 will be granted to each individual whose salary is reduced by the reorganisation; such personal allowances will be reduced and constantly extinguished under the operation of Article 61 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(b) Under 5 years' service in the North-West Frontier Province:

(d) Inferior posts 5
Reserve for temporary appointments ... 3
Do. for leave 20

* Subject to further revision by the audit officers concerned.

9. The officers of the Punjab Commission, both military and civil, now on the cadre of the North-West Frontier Province† will be brought on to the civil cadre of the reconstituted Department with effect from the 1st February 1906. The officers who were transferred to the Province when it was created in 1901 will, however, as far as possible, be permitted to exercise their option before the 1st October 1906 either of remaining in the Political Department or of reverting to the Punjab Commission.

Marked with † in list A annexed.

10. In view of the revised grading now introduced, it is intended to revise the present scale of local allowances other than sumptuary allowances, with effect from the same date; but the question is reserved for separate consideration. Each case will be dealt with upon its merits, but the general principles to be followed will be that such allowances will ordinarily be confined to frontier and trans-frontier appointments, and will be rarely granted within India, and then only as special remuneration for special work done. The list of local allowances given in statements A and B appended to this Resolution must be read with the above reservation.

11. No refund of pay or allowances drawn by officers in the interval between the 1st of February 1906 and the date of these orders will be required on the ground of the retrospective sanction accorded to the Reorganisation Scheme.

L. W. DANE,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE INCOME-TAX DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1905-1906.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 657S.R.—The 24th July 1906.—The following extracts from the Resolution and Returns of the Board of Revenue on the working of the Income-tax Department in Bengal during the year 1905-1906 are published for general information.

H. J. MCINTOSH,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION.

INCOME-TAX BRANCH.

THE HON'BLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C. S. I.

Dated Calcutta, the 7th July 1906.

THE statistical information regarding the Income-tax Department, for the year 1905-1906, has been compiled with reference to the Government of India's Resolutions Nos. 2316S.R., dated the 8th May 1901, and 83S.R., dated the 14th January 1903.

The figures for the transferred districts have been excluded from, and those for Sambalpur included in, the statements [appended.]

2. The receipts, charges and net revenue of the years 1904-1905 and 1905-1906 are compared below:—

Year.		Receipts.	Charges.	Percentage of charges.	Net revenue.
		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.
1905-06	...	46,48,526	1,51,862	3·3	44,96,664
1904-05	...	43,55,643	1,40,648	3·2	42,14,995
		+2,92,883	+11,214	+ ·1	+ 2,81,669

The net revenue showed an increase of 6·7 per cent., as compared with an increase of 1·9 per cent. in 1904 1905.

3. The collections on the profits of companies showed a noticeable increase of Rs. 1,87,942 or 34·6 per cent. in comparison with the preceding year.

The total number of assessees in the lowest class of Part IV (i.e. those assessed on the lowest taxable income of Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,250) was 10,602 which shews a decrease of 188 or 1·7 per cent. on the number of persons assessed in this class in the preceding year. Of those assessees 552 were formerly in higher classes, 1,455 were new assessees and 2,809 were assessees who in previous years had been assessed in lower classes. The figures appear to shew that assessments in this class were more carefully made in the year under review.

4. The final number of assessees and the final demand for the year 1905-1906 show an increase of 1,080 persons and Rs. 3,37,962 or 2·6 (and 8·7 per cent., as compared with 1·7 and ·6 per cent., respectively, during the previous year. Of these increases Calcutta contributed 917 persons and Rs. 3,02,362 or 84·9 and 89·5 per cent., respectively, and this result is attributed to the commercial prosperity of the City during the year under report.

5. The figures under the heading "Remitted as irrecoverable" show a noticeable decrease of Rs. 63,961 during the year under report. The remission in Calcutta of Rs. 24,023, as compared with Rs. 85,358 in 1904-1905 is mainly responsible for this result. The Commissioner has been asked to explain the cause of the fluctuation.

6. The percentage of collections on the final demand on account of tax for the year was 97·07, as compared with 97·2 during the year 1904-1905. The districts of Birbhum, Bankura, Champaran, Cuttack, Sambalpur, Puri, Ranchi and Palamau succeeded in collecting the entire demand within the year. The prescribed standard was attained in all the other districts.

7. The total cost of assessment and collection during the year shows an increase of Rs. 11,214 or 8 per cent. in comparison with the previous year, owing chiefly to the entertainment of additional establishments in Calcutta and to the grant of the increased horse allowance to the Income-tax assessors there.

3. A statement showing the receipts and expenditure of the Fire-Brigade Fund is annexed to this report. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 17,775-8-3, the receipts amounted to Rs. 82,725-6-3, and the total expenditure to Rs. 83,096-9-9, leaving a balance of Rs. 17,404-4-9 at the close of the year.

Receipts.—Fees under the Petroleum Act realized Rs. 2,598-8-3 as against the estimate of Rs. 800; the sale proceeds of unserviceable stores amounted to Rs. 856-9-7 as against Rs. 100, and a sum of Rs. 218-6-2 was refunded by the Public Works Department as unexpended balance of the amount paid in the previous year for constructing the fire station at Garden Reach. No fines under the Petroleum Act or Fire-Brigade Act were received during the year, nor was there any receipt for hire of fire-engines. The net result was an actual increase in receipts of Rs. 2,293-14-6 over the estimate.

Expenditure—

(a) Under the head of Establishment, the increase against Lall Bazar is due to the payment of acting allowance during the absence of the Chief Engineer, on deputation at Port Blair, and to adjustment of the contribution on account of pay and leave allowance of one of the Engineers who was on leave. The decrease against this and other stations represents savings in the rank of khalasees, &c.

(b) The net decrease, amounting to Rs. 4,906 0-6 under the head of Contingencies, is mostly due to savings under the following heads :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Repairs of buildings and look-out ...	2,706	8	6
Purchase of horses	993	0	0
Hand-cart for conveying coal, &c. ...	500	0	0
Pension	624	11	0

(c) Under the head of "Other charges" there was a net increase of Rs. 1,744-7-11 due partly to the charges for collecting rates and fees under the Act, payable to the Calcutta Corporation, having been raised from Rs. 1,500 to Rs. 3,000 per annum under Government order No. 1072T.M., dated 22nd July 1905, and partly to the increased expenditure on account of "Water pressure."

Out of the closing balance of Rs. 17,404-4-9, a sum of Rs. 10,000, estimated in the Budget for 1906-07 as the anticipated balance on 31st March 1906, has been taken as a set-off in determining the contribution payable by the several Municipalities during the current year.

4. The following table gives the number of fires and the way they were dealt with :—

Some damage by locusts in Monghyr and by other insect pests in the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Jessore and Khulna is reported. Some damage by floods due to heavy rain of the previous week is reported from Darbhanga. Prospects on the whole fair. Cattle-disease exists in twelve districts. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in ten and fallen in three districts. It continues to be high in most districts.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≤ lightning.
